Pro Drivers talking Teen Car Crashes

This is good stuff and nice to hear from professional drivers.

We as race car drivers really get this, so pass this to friends and family with teens that do not get it. It is important that this type of training gets out to all new drivers, it doesn't matter which company, just as long as they are getting the important accident avoidance training that can not be taught on the streets.

Norm, this is great work!

I recommend all the teens that I see in the office go to our local Teen Survival school - here through the Tire Rack.
