

944 Spare Parts Galore from 2 parts cars

Posted by Litespeeds - 17 Jun 2008 13:23

Shawn, who I have known for about 2 years, is parting out a couple of 944's. He has many different parts as listed in the Craigslist ad below, as well as every thing else.

I am having him drive some wheels to me and deliver them to Auto Point Motors so if anyone wants any parts, please contact:

He does accept Paypal payment but you will have to work out the details with him. I am just the middle man trying to save everyone time and gas money.

He might has some goodies like a manual steering rack. Just have to ask him and I am sure he will sell you the parts pretty cheap.

Hey Jeremy,

I just took my open diff out of my 1983 which was in great condition and put in a LSD tranny that I got from Shawn. If you want to buy my tranny, I will sell it to you for $200 if that sounds good to you. There are a few selling for $300-$400 range on Craigslist.

I can bring my tranny to Auto Point and you can pick it up from Art when you get your rear axles too.

Shoot me an e-mail if you want it. Thanks.
