

Buttonwillow June 7th and 8th

Posted by dancing944 - 23 May 2014 07:07

Hey 944 Spec Racers, don't forget to sign up for Buttonwillow Raceway today, as the entry fee goes up tomorrow. There is an enduro again Saturday night, which is always a fun event whether you're racing or crewing.

Hope to see you there,

Everett

Re: Buttonwillow June 7th and 8th

Posted by jivenjim - 26 May 2014 08:24

Hey Everett

who's coming?

I think Nevada Mary and Simon are coming in addition to usual Socal. Plus I think Comeau is making a grand return!

I know Richmond and I are running the 3 hr Night Enduro. I think we will also have another couple 944's.

Thomas has found a faster gear or something, cause he's on a tear. John seems to really do well at Buttonwillow and wants to another Win there. Richmond is a tough racer anywhere.

Comeau used to be so fast and was only man to beat Tyler. So if Comeau can remember how to race, look out. Should be some great races.

Re: Buttonwillow June 7th and 8th

Posted by tcomeau - 26 May 2014 09:27

Yeah, I'm trying to get out there again. I've attended the last 4 local autocrosses so it looks like I remember which pedal is which. I'll have to freshen up a few systems on the car and make sure it will conform with the NASA tech inspection process.

So the list looks like.

Everett Delano

Jim Hicks

Jim Richmond

Tom Atteberry

Mary Riddel

Simon Peck?

Ian McIntyre

Tim Comeau

Working on a few others.

Re: Buttonwillow June 7th and 8th

Posted by dancing944 - 28 May 2014 07:33

Yes, sorry for the delay in responding. That list is pretty accurate. Also racing will be Jim Foxx and Katherine Pelland. Good turnout. Should be fun.

Re: Buttonwillow June 7th and 8th

Posted by Atteberry - 01 Jun 2014 10:06

I am signed up for June 7-8 both the endurance race and sprint. Everett is my co-driver in the endurance race. You are right Jim I put in a 6th gear. I need to try anything to try and keep up with you. Great racing this year.

Re: Buttonwillow June 7th and 8th

Posted by dancing944 - 04 Jun 2014 14:43

Okay gang, the schedule is up for this weekend. It should be fun. Note that we will get two qualifying sessions each day. More track time = more opportunities to go fast.

See you there, Everett

=====