

944 Spares -Cylinder Head and Cam Tower

Posted by genikz - 29 Dec 2013 14:10

I sold my '88 924S 944-SPEC, and I no longer need my spares.

Asking:

$50 for the head

$35 for the cam tower

The head was removed from my '88 924S with 165k miles and probably needs a rebuild, given the mileage; it was not overheated, I just slapped on a rebuild head given the mileage. The cam tower (not pictured) was removed from an engine I bought as a spare (which turned out to have scored bores). The cam tower is complete with cam (which looks okay, to my untrained eye), lifters and a new gasket. Oil pan is also from the junk motor (which I was told was an '83 and I left outside for a few months, sorry).

I'm located in Fullerton, 92833.

Please call seven 1-4, five 95, forty three 82 or email
