Ok, I don't mean to be a buzz-kill but with less than 30 days til the race season begins here in the mid-west and great lakes regions, there needs to be somesort of decision made on tires for the season. With the issue in Japan I dont think there is any way to procure the needed ammount of tires for all of our drivers for even the first couple weekends of racing! With everything I have read it seems that it will be quite a while before production continues at TOYO, not to mention how long it will take to get those tires here to the states!

Is there any way to choose an "alternate" tire"? Whether it is for the entire season, or just a portion? As a build & support shop this is becoming a serious issue. From a 944-spec shop that rebuilds transmissions we really dont want to see a "full slick" tire be adopted as there just arent that many available ring and pinion sets available! Running full slicks WILL kill these transmissions.

the 944-spec class isn't the only class that's going to deal with the TOYO shortage, so this may become a much larger issue! Are there any other tire suppliers that can provide a similar tire? At this point, contingency may not even be an issue! Sure, you may get a $500 TOYO-buck certificate, but how much good does that do if you cant buy the tires before the cert expires??

Not trying to stir the pot, but this is an issue that is not going to resolve itself anytime soon.

So just an update on how I got my tires...

They were from last years batch. Last set that the shop had in stock, Last set in the state of CO.

They told me that they were 4 of less than 100 available nationwide and a new shipment will not be in for the foreseeable future. So, they gave me a small "discount" because they were a year old but get this...

Posted by cbuzzetti - 31 Mar 2011 13:54 Buttonwillow currently does not have any tires in the 225/50-15 size for any manufacture. They did mention that a woman from Toyo was there last wekend with a different race group and that one cargo ship is enroute with tires but the quantity and sizes were unknown at this time. Maybe we will get lucky and it is full of our size. Please check around and post here what you find out. Re: 2011 spec tires Posted by cbuzzetti - 31 Mar 2011 14:50 Just got a call back from Les at Buttonwillow. He called Toyo after I called earlier today. There are plenty of 225-45-15 RA-1 tires in stock. Toyo will not tell him the QTY but this may be the best alternative since it will be very close in speed and will still qualify for Toyo Bucks. May need to get the powers that be to discuss this option.
