944-SPEC - 944SPEC - low cost wheel to wheel racing

Generated: 5 November, 2025, 00:15 exhaust?? Posted by cullenwinter - 22 Mar 2008 13:00 Our local muffler guy (and corvette racer) is willing to hook me up with some work at greatly reduced cost, so I am planning to have him remove the cat. Here's my question: How much weight will I lose by replacing the cat with a piece of straight pipe? (I've got to be careful, not a whole lot more can come out of my car) Thanks Re:exhaust_?? Posted by Sterling Doc - 23 Mar 2008 04:38 I can verify that. Car runs fine with a straight pipe, even makes good torque on the dyno, but for the sake of my hearing, I'm looking at straight-through muffler of some type for this season. Re:exhaust?? Posted by dmdirks - 23 Mar 2008 04:43 I installed a Dynomax bullet series muffler with a turn-down right in front of the rear torsion bar housing. The muffler itself weighs 4 lbs, so the system is significantly lighter than the stock pipe & muffler, but it's pretty loud. Re:exhaust ?? Posted by Sterling Doc - 23 Mar 2008 10:38 Dave, does your exhaust exit down under the car, or out the side?

Re:exhaust ?? Posted by dmdirks - 23 Mar 2008 13:49

944-SPEC - 944SPEC - low cost wheel to wheel racing