

Texas round 3 at Texas World Speedway

Written by Al Fernandez
Tuesday, 01 May 2012 06:33

Turnout was a little light for this event for the new Texas region 944Spec racers, but the strong growth continued to show with three new drivers completing Comp school and getting their racing licenses! Phil Hanson and Jason Stanley joined the fray for the whole weekend after Friday's comp school. Kilynn Weber completed the school but his sharp 924S needs a few safety items before it can compete.

Phil Fromme took home three out of the four wins, showing both he and his car are in top form. The rest of the 944Spec world needs to be worried about Hallett next month as that is one of Phil's favorite tracks. Al Fernandez won the fourth race, while rookies Phil Hanson and Jason Stanley dramatically improved their lap times until they were within a mere second and a half off the pace over the relatively long TWS track. That is just excellent progress!

The next Texas region event is at Hallett, which always draws entries from the Rockies and even the Great Lakes and Midwest. You dont want to miss that one!